KLARION TRACKIT

Scalable, Flexible and a complete solution for product traceability

KLARION TRACKIT

Complete End-to-end traceability

Trackit is a simple solution which can generate unique codes for each product and trace products from manufacturing till it reaches end customers. It comes with flexible printing, labelling, scanning solutions. Trackit comes with unique advantage and can be extended for complete dealer and vendor portal. All this within one box and thus avoiding costly integrations.

Key Features

Serial Number and QR code management

Flexible and Configurable Serial number generation. Compliant with regulatory needs, customers can generate mCodes easily and securely. mCodes are unique serial numbers generated by Trackit. Multiple templates are available for label printing. Supports multiple devices for printing and scanning of labels.

Complete Traceability

Each and every product can be traced from the production till it reaches the customer through various apps which are part of trackit. The solution supports multiple packaging hierarchy and supports intermediate processes like break shipper or quality processes.

Customer Empowerment

A customer can scan a code to get more details of the products at a store. Post purchase, the customer can do warranty registration, check warranty status or generate service request. Customer can update their contact info and share feedback which can help to understand the customers much better.

Quality Tracking

The traceability helps any organization to quickly understand if any quality issue arises even after the product is in the market. Organizations can understand the origin of the issue in a very quick time and also recall defective products with much less efforts.

Supply Chain Transparency

The transparency and visibility of inventory in the supply chain helps organizations to plan sales and production rightly. The trends can help to refine sales, distribution and marketing strategies.
